Freelancing is a job which is completely different from traditional 9 to 5 job. In traditional jobs one has to work as per the company or organization rules and regulations. But in the Freelancing sector, one can work as per his flexibility. He can get time freedom. He is not required to go anywhere. He can work from his home. He is not bound to work any fixed hours of work daily. He is completely free to work as per his choice. He can get jobs as per his skills like data entry, content writing, seo, translation, internet marketing, web designing and in many more skills and get paid well online.

.For the increasing demand of online work A new freelancing site started in 2018 named Freelancertohire.com which is an online marketplace website which connects freelancer and employer under one roof.

Freelancertohire was founded in 2018 by Santosh Kumar Dash, a former employee of WIPRO. Taking into consideration the increasing demand of freelancing work in data entry, web designing, seo, internet marketing and in many more fields, and the availability of abundant skilled persons, especially in India, he thought to connect both employer and freelancer under one roof. So the origin of Freelancertohire occurred where employers can post jobs as per their requirements and freelancers can bid on the projects. Then the employer will choose the perfect freelancer after managing, chatting and dealing with freelancers. Then he will award the project to the perfect freelancer. After completion of the jobs successfully freelancer will be paid. Employer has to deposit the project amount in credit account opened in Freelancertohire.com. After getting the job done and confirmation from employer and remarked about freelancer .Fund will be transferred to freelancer after marketplace service charge deduction(lowest charge 8% of total project cost)

Freelancertohire.com is probably Asia's best freelancing site which never charge employer anything to post projects. Employer can post unlimited projects free.
